Waterco powers the wellness industry with premium water filtration

The wellness industry has become a major driver in global tourism, with high-end aquatic facilities serving as a key attraction for travellers. According to research from the Global Wellness Institute (GWI), the wellness economy soared to $5.6 trillion in 2022.

As wellness destinations continue to thrive, London has emerged as a hotspot for health and fitness. A new wave of specialist clinics and curated wellness spaces are incorporating Waterco's advanced water filtration solutions to create world-class pool and spa experiences — all while reducing energy and water consumption.

WATERCO
water, the liquid of life

Waterco Limited (ASX:WAT) pioneers reliable solutions for healthy, safe water environments, which are used in residential, commercial and industrial applications in over 40 countries. Established in 1981, it has become a global brand recognised for designing and manufacturing filtration and sanitisation equipment for the aquatic, aquaculture, and water treatment sectors.

The preferred choice for premium wellness facilities

Elite wellness clubs recognise that exceptional spa and pool experiences depend on superior water quality. Among them, Third Space, one of London's most exclusive members-only health clubs, sets the standard for holistic wellness.

“Third Space is more than a gym — it's a sanctuary for health enthusiasts, a hub for community engagement, and a haven for those seeking holistic wellness,” says Tony Fisher, Waterco Division CEO, North America and Europe.

With its cutting-edge design, state-of-the-art facilities, and innovative approach to fitness, Third Space's new Richmond location has quickly become a sought-after destination for those looking to enhance both body and mind.

Spanning approximately 30,000 square feet across the basement, ground, and first floors, amenities include a fully equipped gym, dedicated studios for Pilates, high-intensity interval training (HIIT), hot yoga, and spinning. Additionally, the club boasts a 20-metre swimming pool, complemented by luxurious spa facilities including a hydrotherapy pool, sauna and steam room, all designed and constructed by multi-award-winning Aquascapes.

“We work by a so-called ‘Red Box’ concept whereby we draw a hypothetical red box around an area — in this instance the complete pool hall and plant room areas — and construct and install everything within that area including plumbing, ducting, electrics, plant equipment and finishes etc., to name but a few!” explains Aquascapes Office Manager Sally Ansell. “An element that we are particularly proud of in this project is the Anodised Bronze Aluminium Architectural Fins that border the main pool and were designed and installed by Aquascapes, having sought a local company to manufacture them.”

Advanced filtration technology

This premium wellness and fitness retreat depends on Waterco's advanced filtration technology to maintain consistently pristine water quality, even during peak usage. In a high-traffic club where hundreds of members use the pool and spa facilities daily, effective filtration is critical for managing bather load hygiene.

Solutions for pristine water, low maintenance, and sustainability

With over four decades of global experience in manufacturing and supplying high-performance commercial water treatment solutions, Waterco has built a reputation for reliability, innovation, and excellence. This proven track record instills complete confidence in Aquascapes, assuring them of not only the superior quality of Waterco's products but also the seamless supply chain that supports their projects.

"Waterco has earned its place as the preferred choice for swimming pool and spa builders worldwide," says Fisher. "From resort-style hotel pools to luxury spa retreats, our advanced water filtration and sanitisation technologies ensure pristine water quality, energy efficiency, and long-term durability. This level of reliability gives peace of mind to customers, facility managers, developers, and investors alike, reinforcing the value of their investment while enhancing the user experience."

By consistently delivering cutting-edge solutions that optimise water clarity, reduce maintenance costs, and promote sustainability, Waterco continues to set the benchmark for excellence in commercial aquatic environments.
